Union Heads Study Steel Wage Raise

Unofficial Guesses Run As High As 25 Cents An Hour

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Oct. 4 (AP) — Officials of the United Steelworkers of America (C.I.O.) today begin closed-door discussions here which could set a pattern for a new round of wage increases.

Future wage policies will be discussed in secret by the union's wage policy committee and its international executive board.

Some reports placed possible union demands as high as a 25-cent increase in hourly wages.

However, no officer of the union was willing to be quoted on the subject.

The union is free to strike Dec. 31 if no agreement is reached with steel companies by then.

Steelworkers' demands have set the pattern for several previous rounds of wage increases.

The steelworkers claim a membership of a million. The union is headed by Philip Murray, who is also president of the C.I.O.

Crucible's Meeting With Union Set Tuesday

Upon the request of Philip Murray, president of the C.I.O. United Steelworkers of America, the Crucible Steel Co. will hold its initial meeting with the union to re-open the wage clause of the 1947 agreement Tuesday afternoon at the Roosevelt Hotel in Pittsburgh.

The announcement was made this morning by a spokesman of the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co.

He said the meeting, requested by Mr. Murray, will be attended by representatives of the various districts of the union and the company.

Magazine Expects 'Husky' Pay Raise

NEW YORK, Oct. 4 (AP) — Iron Age, metalworking trade weekly, said today "it looks certain that the steel industry faces a wage increase and a price increase".

Union leaders are expected to reject a 5-cent or 6-cent company offer, the publication said, adding that the large steel firms have set that figure as the maximum they can offer without raising steel prices.

"If labor wins a husky increase (the paper did not guess at how much that might be) steel prices might rise as much as $6 to $8 a ton," Iron Age said.

It explained that steel firms already have absorbed heavy cost increases which have not yet shown up in earnings reports.

Price increases to maintain earnings, it contended, will be necessary if the industry is to expand by almost 10 million tons by the end of 1952, as it has just promised the government.

"Financing will not take all the load, and if earnings are not good, investors will not invest," the paper said.

Wildcat Strike Hits Ford Plant

Appeals By Leaders To Return Futile

DETROIT, Oct. 4 (AP) — A wildcat strike by a small group of workers threatened today a gradual shutdown of Ford Motor Co. plants in the Detroit area and other parts of the nation.

The company said it could mean the eventual laying off of 125,000 employees.

The strike is in the steel rolling mill of the big River Rouge plant. Both the company and the C.I.O. United Auto Workers said it was unauthorized.

Some 2,000 strikers defied a union order to return to work. In response to union radio appeals, several hundred workers reported at midnight for duty, but not enough to permit resumption of operations at the rolling mill.

The strikers walked out to protest a decision that they are not entitled to premium pay for Saturday and Sunday work when the days fall within their regular five-day work week. The decision was made by Dr. Harry S. Shulman, impartial umpire under Ford's contract with the U.A.W.

Papers Still Idle

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 4—Publication of Pittsburgh's three daily newspapers was suspended today for the second straight day by a strike of mailing room workers.

Series Has City In Dither

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 4 (AP) —The World Series that Philadelphia Phillies fans have waited 35 long and dreary years to see took full command of this baseball-frenzied city today as the Phillies and the New York Yankees made last-minute preparations for the opening game at 1 p. m.

Every reserved seat of the 33,166 total in oia Shibe Park had been sold long in advance. A blocks-long line stretched away from the window where 3,000 bleacher ducats went on sale at 10 a. m.

Baseball talk rattled and buzzed everywhere across the city—in the cigarette-strewn lobbies of jam-packed hotels; across the bars of neighborhood taverns; in the lines of workmen moving into factories and shipyards; across backyard fences where the ladies —as rabid fans as their husbands —laid aside workday chores to speculate on the winner.

Millions of people—there was no accurate estimate of how many —were expected to listen to the world-wide radio broadcast of the game.

And millions more, undoubtedly an all-time record number, would watch the game being televised to 47 cities in the East, Midwest and South.

The weather this morning, and the forecast for the afternoon, lacked only steady sunshine of being a truly perfect day. Occasionally the sun peeked through clouds blown across the sky by the 15-mile wind. But the day had a grayish cast and the weatherman said it would stay that way. The temperature was in the comfortably cool 60's.

Standard quotation from scalpers was $75 a pair for $6.50 reserved seats. But there were some indications not too many takers were appearing, and the market appeared to be a bit shaky.

Labor Party's Eye On More Businesses

Sugar, Cement Trade, Life Insurance Put Next By Socialists

MARGATE, Eng., Oct. 4 (AP) —Deputy Prime Minister Herbert Morrison urged Britain's Labor party today to follow a go-slow policy, but pledged it to carry out more state ownership plans.

Morrison, who is also the party's election strategist, specifically listed the sugar and cement industries, and industrial life insurance concerns, to be taken over.

He declined, however, to say when these will be socialized.

"We do not think it wise at this stage to commit the party to a timetable of nationalization," Morrison told the party's annual conference.

He said decisions on timing must come when the party makes up a specific election manifesto—and that won't be written until the next election date is decided. The election is widely expected to come next spring.

Morrison urged party workers to present repeatedly the ideals of socialist policy to all their neighbors in heart-to-heart talks. The object, he said, is to "get those extra 50 seats which will give us a working majority" in the House of Commons.

Rally Awaits Taft On Visit Here Tonight

Talk At Auditorium To Wind Up Full Day Of Touring In County

A capacity crowd of 2,000 is expected for U.S. Senator Robert A. Taft's address tonight at 8 in the Memorial Auditorium in a county-wide labor rally on behalf of his campaign for re-election.

W. A. Southan, chairman of the county Taft-for-Senate committee, said C. William O'Neill, Republican candidate for attorney general, may be present.

Willis O. Hall, local potter who heads the state-wide Labor League for Taft, will preside at tonight's rally, to which all labor organizations are invited.

The program also is open to the public. There is no admission fee.

East Liverpool police will meet Senator Taft at Silvers Switch after his Wellsville talk and escort him to Memorial Auditorium.

Mr. Taft's appearance will climax his tour of seven Columbiana county communities, starting at Salem this afternoon.

As the campaign progresses, domestic problems began to reclaim attention. Military victory tended to diminish the Korean war as a political issue.

Senator Taft, who has been contending the Truman administration's "blunders" invited the Korean attack, shifted to a denunciation of the Brannan farm plan.

In a weekly report to Ohio voters, Mr. Taft said the Brannan plan—which would provide direct government subsidies to growers of perishable crops under certain circumstances—"is a a fraud on its face".

No Tickets Needed To Attend Taft Talk

A number of calls have come to The Review, asking whether "tickets" are needed for admission to Senator Robert A. Taft's talk tonight at Memorial Auditorium. No tickets are necessary —the doors are open to all.

Some cards, which look like "tickets", had been distributed by the Labor League for Taft, but they were intended solely to advertise the meeting—not as a means of admission.

Wetzel Named Head Of County Defense Setup

LISBON, Oct. 4 (Special) — State Representative Clarence L. Wetzel of Lisbon has been appointed civilian defense director of Columbiana county's unincorporated areas.

The appointment was made by county commissioners acting on instructions from the State Department of Civilian Defense, which classifies the county as one of 16 in Area 3 in the state defense setup.

Mr. Wetzel immediately named five division captains, as follows:

Attorney Lynn Riddle of Lisbon, personnel; Fred H. Johnson of Summitville, director of information; County Superintendent of Schools James L. McBride of Lisbon, training and operations; County Engineer Charles O. Snyder of Salem, director of supply, and County Health Commissioner Robert M. Dunlap, director of health.

May Call In The Navy

London Eats Cold Meals As Gas Strike Drags On

LONDON, Oct. 4 (AP) — The Labor government marked time today before sending sailors to work London's gas plants, idle for three weeks under an unofficial strike of 1,400 maintenance men.

Forty-six workers went back to their jobs at Southend today, but London's housewives faced another cold-meals week end as most of the strikers refused to follow their union's appeal to return to work.

The strikers protested that 10 of their leaders are being victimized by the government. The 10 were summoned to answer charges that they broke two British laws on work in public services by fostering the three-week-old strike.

The workers, who walked out to enforce wage raise demands, will hold a mass meeting tomorrow after their 10 leaders have appeared in court, to decide whether to continue their stoppage.

The government ordered naval technicians from the Chatham Base to stand ready to replace the strikers in the 14 gas works affected by the stoppage.

With gas pressure low in most of London and suburbs north of the Thames, the Ministry of Food today told housewives they can buy canned beef instead of fresh meat over the week end.

For many days there has not been enough gas to cook or heat water.

In another London labor dispute, more than 4,000 printers were out of work. Most of them were dismissed by employers for refusal to abandon union orders to refuse overtime and work strictly to rules.

The London Society of Compositors, representing the workers, told some 200 print shops it would order a strike unless agreements were signed guaranteeing a minimum wage of eight pounds ($22.40) per week.

Reds Still Hide In North; U.S. Third Division Lands

Vote In U.N. On Plan For Korea Near

U.S.-Backed Formula Seems To Have Votes To Put It Across

LAKE SUCCESS, Oct. 4 (AP) —The United Nations drove today toward a showdown vote on Korean peace plans.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky takes the floor in the Assembly's 60-nation political committee to make a final plea for acceptance of his plan.

British Minister of State Kenneth Younger is scheduled to follow him with an appeal for support of the American-backed proposal submitted by Britain and seven other nations.

Most delegates expect a vote later in the day despite last-minute attempts by Yugoslavia and India yesterday to shunt both plans to a subcommittee for a try at compromise.

An overwhelming victory was forecast for the West's peace blueprint, which Nationalist China's Dr. T. F. Tsiang hailed as promising "independence, unity and rehabilitation" to war-torn Korea.

Russia probably will not be able to line up any votes for her plan, which calls for an immediate cease-fire, withdrawal of foreign troops, and later elections which the Soviet Union and Communist China would help supervise.

Delegates, in private conversations, have labeled the Soviet proposal an attempt to snatch political victory from military defeat, and have indicated they want no part of any such scheme.

All countries outside the Russian bloc — except Yugoslavia and India, which have indicated they will abstain—most likely will vote for the eight-nation plan. It aims at making Korea a "pilot project" to show what the U. N. can do for underdeveloped, devastated countries.

It envisages a short military occupation of all Korea to restore order and to guarantee the end of aggression. This would be followed by free elections in all Korea, under U. N. supervision, to elect a government for a free, independent and united country.

The plan also calls for U. N. economic aid to the battered land and would establish a strong U. N. commission to see that the proposals are carried out.

The plan's sponsors are Britain, Australia, the Philippines, Pakistan, Cuba, Brazil, the Netherlands and Norway.

Turkey Joins Defense Talks

Remains Outside Pact Group, However

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4 (AP)—Turkey has accepted an invitation "to be associated with" Atlantic Pact defense planning in the Mediterranean area.

Under the arrangement, Turkey does not, however, become a full-fledged member of the 12-nation defense alliance.

The State Department today disclosed Turkey's acceptance of the invitation by making public an exchange of notes between Secretary Acheson and the Turkish ambassador, Feridun C. Erkin.

Mr. Acheson acted on behalf of the foreign ministers of the 12 treaty nations who met in New York last week to plan increased defense preparations.

Mr. Acheson's note said:

"It is the view of the Council that association of the Turkish government with the appropriate phase of the planning work of the North Atlantic Treaty organization with regard to the defense of the Mediterranean would contribute significantly to the defense of that area."

Marines To Add Planes

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4 — Marines reported today they will call 13 additional reserve squadrons to duty before Jan. 1. In building up to a planned strength of 18 squadrons.

G.I.s RETURN TO SCENE OF EARLY DEFEAT. Jammed aboard the first tank to enter Taejon after the city's recapture, American soldiers take it easy as they return to the scene of one of the toughest battles in the early stages of the Korean war. Here, they pass under a North Korean flag and a propaganda streamer left by the Reds.

Communist Strike In Vienna Fails To Shut Down Industries

Seize Streetcars, Plan All-Out Rally As Climax To 'Show'

VIENNA, Oct. 4 (AP) — Communists, trying to pump life into a fizzling attempt at a general strike, seized streetcars in the Soviet sector of Vienna today with the aid of Russian soldiers.

The purpose of the wholesale confiscation of streetcars apparently was to use them to transport thousands of Communist-led workers to a mass demonstration in Vienna's governmental district this afternoon.

The Communist call for the general strike was ignored by most of Austria's workers, although it produced short-lived attempts to seize railway stations and other scattered incidents.

About 50,000 workers in the Russian-controlled factories heeded the strike call, issued to back demands for new general wage increases. But the Reds appeared to have failed to lure workers of the Socialist and People's parties, bulk of Austrian labor, out of their factories.

Even in the Russian zone, many factories still were operating. But Austrian government officials said this probably was because the Russians did not want to lose production.

Communists with armbands seized streetcars from their operators in the Soviet sector of the city—the seizures were restricted to that sector—and forced the city employees to drive the cars to the carbarns. There, Communist operators took over.

The Reds had planned to bring their strike effort to a climax at 5 p. m. at the governmental center.

2 City Drivers Suffer Hurts In Sideswiping

One Auto Skids Into Second In Passing In Harvey Ave. Mishap

Two East Liverpool men were injured late Tuesday afternoon when their autos sideswiped on Harvey Ave. near the state line, police reported.

Treated at City Hospital, they are:

Thomas May, 40, of 706 Green Lane, who suffered abrasions of the forehead, lacerations of the right eye and a bruised chest, and

Gerald E. Bess, 21, of 925 Blaine St., treated for lacerations of the right knee and lower lip.

Police said the cars collided at 4:47 p. m. 100 feet east of Putnam St. Driving a 1936 coupe, Mr. Bess was passing a west-bound car as Mr. May approached from the east, police reported. When Mr. Bess applied the brakes, his auto skidded into the side of Mr. May's 1949 coupe, officers said.

Chicago Driver Hurt In Tractor-Trailer Upset

A Chicago man was injured Tuesday at 3:15 p. m. when his tractor-trailer upset at the foot of Chester Hill and slid into the driveway at Chaney's Service Station.

The driver, Adam Schick, 28, is in "good" condition at City Hospital with a hip injury.

Police Chief Floyd Lyons said the truck raced down hill and upset as it swung into Carolina Ave. The driver told police his air brakes failed.

He was en route from Union, N. J., to Chicago with 700 cartons of oil in two-gallon cans. The side of the truck was damaged considerably.

The sliding trailer barely missed the station's pumps. A piece of concrete was knocked off the west end of the island.

3 Palestine Area Men Injured As Car Overturn

EAST PALESTINE, Oct. 4 (Special) — Three district men were injured shortly after 1 p. m. Tuesday when their convertible went out of control and overturned in a cornfield.

In "serious" condition at Salem City Hospital is William Dyke, 36, of Section 16, Middletown township, who sustained internal injuries.

Less seriously hurt were Albert Durk, 35, the driver, of near Youngstown, head injuries, and Howard "Bud" Berresford, 24, of East Palestine, broken shoulder and lacerated face.

The accident occurred on Route 170, midway between East Palestine and Negley.

Mass Killings Found In Wake Of Red Flight

As Many As 10,000 May Have Died In Seoul, Reports Say

By O. H. P. KING
Associated Press Staff Writer

SEOUL, Oct. 4 (AP)—A South Korean official estimated today the Communists massacred more than 10,000 Seoul residents before being driven from the capital city by U. S. Marines and doughboys.

"Several thousand more are reported lying in the hills," said Lee Joong Choon, chief of the municipal public information section of Seoul. "Many were dumped into rivers by the Reds."

Lee said the city actually had buried only 375 bodies, some of them victims of the street-by-street fighting for Seoul.

Another source, who declined to be identified, said mass killings were not the work of North Koreans alone. He said the number of non-combatants slain by both the Communist police and South Korean soldiers probably would total several tens of thousands in all South Korea.

Associated Press Correspondent Stan Swinton reported from Kunsan, west coast port, that a survivor told United Nations investigators 2,000 South Koreans were killed at Chonju.

What's The Next Turn?

Endless Guerrilla Battle Seen Prospect In Korea

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4 (AP) — The eventuality in Korea which American officials now fear is the breakdown of the Communist army into guerrilla forces which could fight on for months or even years.

Far more serious, of course, would be the direct intervention of Chinese Communist or Russian troops in North Korea. But Washington authorities do not appear to believe that this will take place.

On the contrary, there is increasing speculation here that the Russians and Red Chinese will encourage the Korean Reds to convert their country into another Greece or Indo-China. That would mean an indefinite delay in bringing real peace to the peninsula and a prolonged drain on American military strength.

However, the growing power of South Korean forces, with American training and supplies, probably would make it unnecessary for U.S. troops in large numbers to remain in the fight indefinitely.

The threat of guerrilla war is seen by officials here in several recent developments.

The fact that the North Korean command ignored General MacArthur's request for surrender last week dashed such hopes as there were that the whole force could be taken as a unit and disarmed by the United Nations.

The Korean Reds have continued to fight fiercely, and may maintain that pattern even if they lose control of key points and major transportation routes which an organized army would require for its operations.

Moreover, the mountainous and relatively primitive countryside offers excellent terrain for guerrilla hit-and-run tactics. Besides, guerrilla units presumably would get more support from the population in areas which they dominated.

American Units Held In Reserve

Reports Heard Foe Digs In For Stand In Area Of Wonsan

TOKYO, Oct. 4 (AP)—South Korean troops prowled deeper into North Korea today, feeling for the Red army that has all but vanished in ominously empty country.

They got as far as 60 miles beyond Parallel 38 as the American command announced the arrival in the Far East of a new reinforcing division—the U. S. Third Infantry — to join the Korean fighting if necessary.

But still the penetration force north of 38 was composed solely of Korean nationals with about 60 American Army men along as advisers.

The U. S. forces were held back in mop-up and reserve positions in liberated South Korea.

The latest Red mystery column that streamed down from the Manchuria border of Red China into North Korea was discounted by an Air Force spokesman as a regular highway supply train, and not a foreign troop convoy.

The Fifth Air Force said a 150-vehicle convoy was spotted Tuesday night by two Allied B-26 pilots. The column was moving south near Pakchon, about 50 miles northwest of the North Korean capital of Pyongyang.

Presumably it was the same column that Allied planes attacked earlier Tuesday.

"There has been a steady movement of supplies by road from the Manchuria border south all through the war," said Major Robert Nelms of the Fifth Air Force.

The North Koreans are equipped with Russian heavy fighting material, and much of it may have come from Soviet-dominated Manchuria along the highway over the Yalu River frontier.

General MacArthur's headquarters announced the Third Division had arrived in the Far East Command from the American west coast. A spokesman would not say where or when.

But it obviously had movement orders before the war took a decisive turn in mid-September with the Allied beachhead landings at Inchon.

South Koreans captured Kosong, 50 airline miles north of the border along the east coast. Patrols stabbed still farther north in a drive which South Koreans say will go all the way to the Manchuria border.

Associated Press Correspondent William Jorden reported from the front that 4,000 Red troops are digging into strong defenses southeast of Tongchon. That town is 25 miles north of Kosong and about halfway to Wonsan, where the Reds are reported building up for a major stand.

Heavy Frost Seen Tonight

Mercury Expected To Dip To Mid-30's

The Weather Bureau warned that a heavy frost will hit Ohio tonight and that temperatures will dip to the mid-30's for the coldest weather of the season.

The forecast from the Columbus bureau said the frost will be "heavy to killing in the valley bottoms".

If it materializes, it will be a week late as L. H. Copeland, veteran weather observer at Millport, said his 58-year-old records show Columbiana county's first killing frost usually arrives about Oct. 4.

The county had light frost late last month. The first killing frost of 1949 was 10 days late.

The first cool spell of autumn spread over wide areas of the country today.

The North Central States got the chilliest weather, with some below - freezing temperatures from the Upper Mississippi Valley westward to the Rockies.

Readings were moderate along the Eastern Coast and in the Far West while warm weather continued in the Deep South.

Council Tables Wellsville Pay Raise Request

23 Employees Seek 25 Per Cent Boost; '51 Budget Approved

Wellsville Council Tuesday night tabled a request of city employees for a 25 per cent wage increase because "there is no money in sight".

Councilmen added lay-offs may be necessary in the Street Department as only $400 remains in its fund for the remainder of the year.

The hike was asked in a letter read by Clerk Elmer Evans. Signed by 23 employees, it said they met Sunday and agreed to seek the increase.

John W. Powell, president, asked comment by the finance chairman, Harry Kampmann, who replied: "The finance committee cannot see any money for a raise, although it is highly in favor of the increase, if possible".

Mr. Kampmann injected the threat of lay-offs of street men because of dwindling funds.

Councilmen Dominic Dash and Charles Stewart agreed with Mr. Kampmann in their comment. The letter was tabled on the motion of Councilman Ted Swearingen.

Council approved a tentative 1951 budget of $171,645. The estimated expenditures are under this year's, which included $11,000 for Wellsville's share of the super-road to East Liverpool.

Set up by the finance committee Monday night and submitted to council by Auditor Earl G. Shoub, they include:

General, $82,065; poor relief, $20,000; street maintenance from gasoline tax, $11,500; street maintenance from auto license fees, $6,500; water, $42,350; cemetery trust, $275; police and firemen pensions, $1,900 each, and bond retirement, $4,365.

A petition from 17 residents of Riverside Ave. for two street lights between Ninth and 11th Sts. was referred to the street and light committee, and complaints of a washout on 17th St. and of an unsightly sidewalk condition near the Sterling China Co. were referred to Safety-Service Director Charles Lewis.

The property committee contacted owners of private scales on their possible use in checking for overloaded trucks but Councilman Robert Taggart reported they would not handle heavy loads. On recommendation of Councilman John McGarey, prices of scales will be obtained.

Ed Pugh, High School teacher, and students of his class were present and three complained of a rough section of Lisbon St., bad curbing at Aten and Clark Aves., and need of repair of 18th St., but councilmen took no action.

Mr. Stewart, chairman of the street and light committee, earlier asked councilmen not to request minor street repairs for the rest of the year because of insufficient funds.

Mayor C. C. Leatherberry reported a total of $511.40 collected in fines and fees in September. Mr. Swearingen questioned a $5 forfeit by a driver arrested for overloading. Mr. Swearingen said a higher bond should be posted for a violation of that type. Mayor Leatherberry said patrolmen collect the bond.

Fines included: $25, drunken driving; $4, illegal parking; $63.70, speeding; $258.70, gambling; $5, intoxication; $150, disorderly conduct, and $5, overloading.

1949 Tax Revenue Totals $2,044,549

Taxes on real property totalled $2,044,549.36 for the 1949 tax year, with the completion of tabulation of the June collection by County Treasurer Vincent C. Judge in the amount of $931,156.40.

The first-half collection amounted to $1,113,392.96, while the total charge for the year, including the current assessment and delinquencies, amounted to $2,274,072.60.

Delinquent charges accumulated the past four years, and not yet collectible by law, total $120,035.86. This includes $51,357.54 which became delinquent at the last collection period, Mr. Judge said. In addition, there is a $50,140.60 delinquency being liquidated under the Whittmore contracts plan and a $38,668.20 delinquency now in the process of collection through court actions.

Collections of the 1949 tax year on real estate included $505,291.82 from East Liverpool; $394,617.11, Salem; $142,562.72, Wellsville, and $102,979.36, East Palestine. Lisbon paid $76,851.72; Columbiana, $76,520.10, and Leetonia, $36,786.89.

Rotary Club's Fund Outlined

10 Millions Sought To Further Goodwill

The movement to establish a 10 million dollar Rotary foundation for the advancement of international understanding and goodwill was discussed by Arch C. Klumpf, at Tuesday's luncheon meeting of the local club in the Travelers Hotel.

Head of one of the largest lumber companies in Cleveland and international president of the Rotary Club in 1916-17, he told of his efforts to establish such a fund when he was president but declared there was little response.

He said the movement, began to take hold in 1947 following the death of Paul Harris, founder of Rotary, who asked that members give to the foundation the money they would spend for flowers and a monument after his death. He said the fund now totals $2,750,000.

Mr. Klumpf also touched on his work in spreading the Rotary movement in Europe when he was president 33 years ago, before the East Liverpool club was organized.

About 60 members and guests attended the meeting at which William B. Louthan was program chairman. William B. Cooper, president, presided. Group singing was directed by William Ogilvie.

Flower Group Hears Dahlia Show Reports

Final reports on the Silver Anniversary dahlia and flower show were made Monday night at the meeting of the East Liverpool Dahlia Society in the Odd Fellows Temple.

The reports were made by Mrs. Frank Shone, Edwin Kountz, Mrs. Clarence Green, George Schepp, Mrs. Ruth Wolf and Arthur Bostock. Frank V. Shone, vice-president, presided.

Richard Heidel, who had blooms in the Ohio Valley Dahlia Society show at Cincinnati over the week end, gave a report on that show.

Mr. Heidel and William Haugh Jr. of Wellsville won society memberships for the best blooms in a post-show display of dahlias. Henry Patterson of Wellsville and J. T. Eccleston were the judges.

Lunch was served by Mrs. Eunice Hogenfeld, Mrs. Leonard Strobel and Miss Ruth Rumberger.

A coverdish dinner will feature the November meeting. Mrs. John Kellar and Mrs. Hogenfeld, co-chairmen, will be aided by Mrs. Claude Russell and Miss Susan Lewis.

We Won, But---

THE UNITED STATES, fighting under the banner of the United Nations, has won the main action in the Korean war. But it's no time to shrug off misgivings with the empty-headed boast, "We licked 'em, didn't we?"

We licked a satellite military force whose existence was not even recognized by our own militarists until it swarmed over the 38th Parallel and routed the U. S.-trained defenders of the Korean Republic.

The licking was administered at the cost of wholesale disturbances to the economy of the United States, a full-fledged threat of inflation, and an excuse for authoritarians to get their hands on the throat of private enterprise.

It was made possible by extremely heavy casualties to U. S. forces which were hustled off to Korea half-trained and half-equipped. Guardsmen and reservists who cannot be expected to accept the prospect of long-time duty without justifiable complaint.

In the opinion of many competent observers, the United States could not have won without the blunders of the opposition, which include the mysterious failure of its Russian backers to provide planes. The North Koreans were let down hard by their pals in the Kremlin.

On the credit side is the prestige gained by closing the issue with the Communist aggressors. The United States and the United Nations won respect

There also is the awakening to the realities of what the Communist conspiracy is capable of cooking up for the United States and its allies. This may prove to be the most important net gain in the long run.

But there is no excuse for smugness. The men who did the fighting cannot be praised too much. But they do not want praise. They want to have the satisfaction of knowing their efforts were not wasted.

Most of all, they want to be assured that they will not be the goats again for the kind of fumbling which almost handed Korea to the Communists on a platter.

The Attack On Crime

ORGANIZED CRIME is being attacked on many fronts around the country.

The Kefauver Senate investigating committee checked on Kansas City, listening to testimony on rackets there. In Chicago, a probe is going on into the shocking murder of an investigator for the Kefauver committee. In New York, a new police commissioner has been appointed after disclosure of an alleged $5,000,000-a-year police shakedown of bookie rings. At Bellefontaine, O., a sheriff is under indictment for bribery.

In Scioto county, a grand jury has just finished an investigation which found that slot machines had been operated in the county and urged the sheriff to assign a deputy to a full-time check on gambling in the county.

The same sort of an inquiry has been set afoot in Tuscarawas county, where two deputies have been assigned to full-time investigation of gambling violations.

More and more, public officials are coming to a realization that the public is ready to do something about organized crime. It was one of the main topics at the recent convention of the American Bar Association at Chicago.

There Governor Adlai Stevenson of Illinois told the lawyers:

"The greatest obstacles to effective law enforcement are public indifference and cynicism. Organized crime cannot thrive without the active support of many elements in the community, nor without the passive acquiescence of many more elements.

"The respectable businessman who falls for the myth that a wide-open town is good for business is just as effective an accomplice for the criminal as is the politician who seeks to win friends and influence people."

In this connection, the federal government itself is something of a silent partner in crime. It condones slot machines, though they are illegal in Ohio and most states, to the extent of licensing them for tax purposes. Thus, all of the people, as stockholders in the federal government, are passive participants in the earnings of organized gambling.

The Chicago Daily News, commenting on Governor Stevenson's remarks to the Bar Association, put into words what every citizen knows:

"Commercialized gambling can be eliminated if elected public officials do their duty. But officials will not do their duty unless public opinion demands that they should and supports them in their efforts

In the final analysis, it is up to the voters," the newspaper added.

Out of this broad awakening to responsibility, there is clear indication that men and women of almost every community are ready to do something about stopping organized crime. They are, at long last, alert to the quality and vigor of law enforcement—or the lack of it.

Scabrin, a new insecticide now under study by the U S. Department of Agriculture, has been found more potent than pyrethrum against flies.

Behind The News

By George Sokolsky

Population Shift May Alter Politics

THE 1950 CENSUS shows changes in the American population that are likely to have important effects upon the politics of the country. Whenever a shift in population occurs, it is indicative of new developments in industry and of sectional importance.

Such states as North Dakota, Nebraska, Oklahoma, Arkansas, and Mississippi show a decrease in population. The largest increase is California, with Arizona, Florida and Nevada following.

Apparently, climate has something to do with these changes as well as the movement of industry. California shows 51.6 per cent increase over 1940. It is becoming one of our leading manufacturing as well as agricultural states.

The population of the country has doubled since 1900. The three largest states, on the basis of population, are, in this order, New York, California and Pennsylvania. Together, these three states have a population of 35,651,000 of a total of 150,000,000.

In 1900, these three states had an aggregate population of 15,055,000 persons. But this fact is also interesting, that whereas California now has a population of 10,472,000 persons, in 1900 the figures for that state showed only 1,485,000. While the population of the country doubled in the past 50 years, California increased more than seven times.

THE HOUSE of Representatives is elected on the basis of population; the states, therefore, that have increased populations are likely to get more seats.

Public law 291, signed in 1941, at present controls the system of apportionment, but that does not necessarily mean that when Congress comes to deal with the subject, say in 1951 or 1952, it will not adopt a new law. It is likely, however, that the total number of members will not be increased, but that some states will gain and some will lose.

As it stands now, New York has 45 seats, California 23, and Pennsylvania 33, making a total of 101 seats out of 435.

The Pacific states show the greatest increases in population: California 51.6 per cent; Washington 36 per cent and Oregon 38.6 per cent. While the Atlantic coast states show no decreases, New England produced nothing startling in the past decade.

Maine shows an increase of 7.1 per cent; New Hampshire 7.8 per cent; Vermont 4.6 per cent; Massachusetts 9.2 per cent; Connecticut 16.7 per cent, and Rhode Island, 10.2 per cent.

(Unless otherwise specified, the comparisons are between 1940 and 1950.)

The comparison would seem to indicate a movement westward, away from the older states and the older traditions of life. With the exception of Florida, none of the southern states show a large increase, the highest being Maryland with 27.5 per cent.

The Middle West and South are the only areas which show a decrease, but Michigan, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois do show an increase, with Michigan leading. In the Middle West, it is clearer than anywhere else, that the half-century shift of the population from rural to urban centers continues to be pronounced.

THE POLITICAL shift becomes important not only in relationship to the House of Representatives but also in the vote in the electoral college which elects the president. This body equals the number of senators plus representatives; that is, New York State has 45 representatives and 2 senators; therefore, it has 47 votes in the electoral college.

The Middle West may lose votes. In the South, Alabama, Georgia and Mississippi might lose seats in the House of Representatives, while Florida will undoubtedly gain.

The shift in population moves an increasingly large number of citizens away from the eastern seaboard and makes them more distant from Washington. In 1900, the Mountain and Pacific states had a total population of 4,091,000; in 1950, these same states show a population of 19,384,000.

In 1900, the West South Central states, which include Arkansas, Louisiana, Oklahoma, and Texas showed a population of 6,532,000; in 1950, these same states show 14,476,000.

For purposes of comparison, in 1900, New England's population was 5,592,000; this year, it is 9,306,000.

The movement is definitely westward, with whatever alterations that means in the habits of life and thinking of the people. Certainly, westerners are less conscious of European attitudes than those whose traditions are based on New England or Virginia. Such a trend is never immediately measurable, but it does, in time, alter the political complexion of a country. Horace Greeley's "go west!" slogan is bearing rich fruit.

A Grave Responsibility

States And Localities Face Civil Defense Chores

WASHINGTON

THE FEDERAL government is sticking to its view that states and localities must shoulder the main responsibility for civil defense against possible enemy air attack.

This is being made clear in conferences state defense authorities are having with James J. Wadsworth, acting director of the civil defense office of the National Security Resources Board (NSRB).

Many state officials have protested that the federal government is not taking an active enough role in civil defense planning and furnishing of emergency supplies and warning devices. Mr. Wadsworth has told civilian defense officials from western states:

"You cannot rely upon the federal government to provide you with all the tools you need to build an adequate civil defense structure. That leaves a grave responsibility in your hands.

"The federal government will help you to the limit of its resources in terms of today's economy. But the job is always and everlastingly yours."

An order by President Truman establishing a federal Civil Defense Administration has been drafted though not yet formalized.

Mr. Wadsworth has arranged to meet with civil defense directors of states east of the Mississippi River. This group, headed by director Leonard Dreyfuss of New Jersey, expressed concern in advance about federal-state relations.

Mr. Dreyfuss told a news conference the eastern directors are concerned about making loyalty checks of their civil defense workers. In that connection, he said, the directors agreed to call on their state attorneys general to seek revocation of state charters of organizations classed as "subversive" by the U. S. attorney general.

Another in Mr. Dreyfuss' group, civil defense director Donald S. Leonard of Michigan, complained about a recent Air Force order changing air raid warning signals. He said it had caused confusion and created problems for civil defense organizations in getting their auxiliary forces on duty.

"It demonstrates the need for closer co-operation between the federal government and the local authorities," Mr. Leonard said.

The NSRB warned last night that, in case of war, critical target areas in the United States may undergo "more severe" attacks than the World War II bombings of Hamburg, Hiroshima and Nagasaki—the latter two being the Japanese cities hit by the A-bomb.

In a pamphlet distributed to state governors and state civil defense directors, the agency said approximately 67 per cent of the nation's population lives within the critical target areas. It said the remaining 33 per cent of the population must be ready to help the others.

Secret maps listing some of the potential U. S. targets have been sent to key state officials.

The NSRB said the data is designed to "guide the states and communities into organizing mutual aid and mobile support"

Anonymous Students

Pupils At U. S. Communist School Will Be Nameless

NEW YORK

FROM NOW ON, pupils at the Communist party's Jefferson School of Social Science will be anonymous.

Instead of filling out detailed personnel cards and answering class roll calls, they simply will buy tickets for classroom admittance.

The school is the principal training center for Communists and Communists sympathizers in this area. The action followed by 10 days the passage of the new subversive control act by Congress

The change was announced in the Daily Worker, official Communist Newspaper, by Mrs. Rosalie Berry, school registrar.

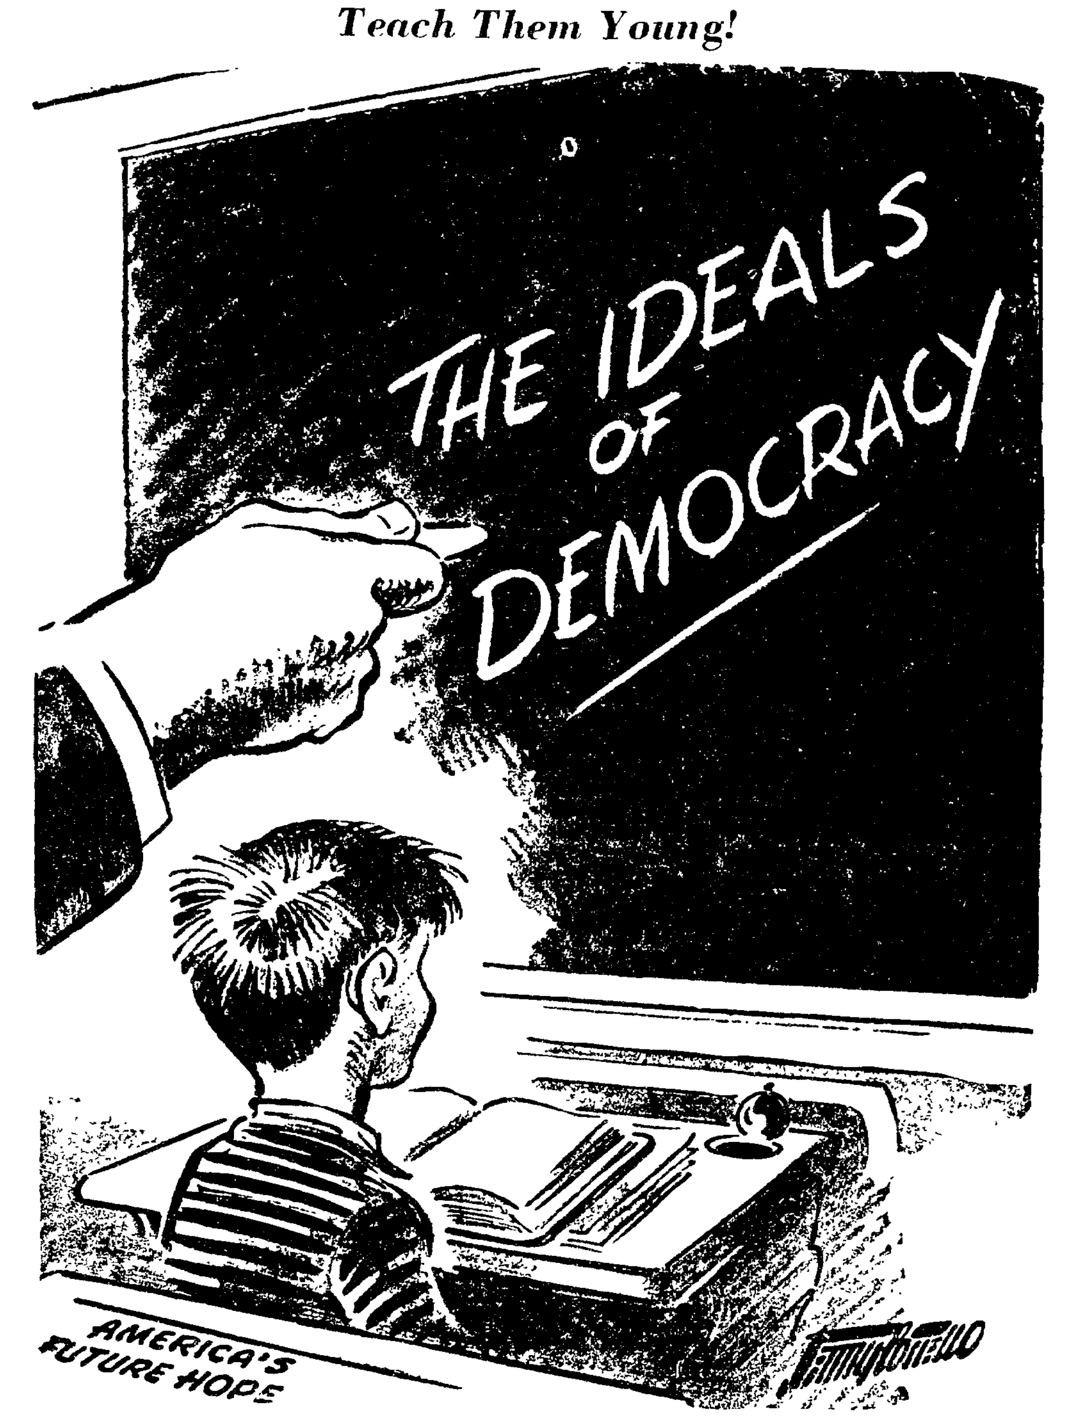
"We are well satisfied with this new system," she said. "Not only does it speed up the registration process, but it also makes for great economy in our record keeping and eliminates the necessity of using class time to call the roll for admittance."

Asked whether the new law influenced the change, she said, "it might. I wouldn't want to comment on that"

The Jefferson school, founded in 1944, has been on the U. S attorney general's list since 1947 as an "adjunct of the Communist party".

Mrs. Berry expects a fall enrollment of about 4,000.

Teach Them Young!



It Hurts When The Hangover Comes

By Walter Lippmann

FIRST GENERAL Bradley and the next day the President himself voiced their fears that the military victory in Korea would cause this country "to let down its guard", in concrete terms that when Congress returns there may be opposition to appropriating the whole of the extra 17 billions which were authorized for next year.

This is not an inspiring picture of the American people. It is in fact an expression of deep distrust—of the notion that in these issues of life and death the people can be counted upon only if they are in a condition of perpetual frenzy.

If this estimate of them turns out to be in any degree true, it will be because the people are being badly led. It will be because their responsible leaders have shrunk from the task of informing and persuading, of educating and convincing them. It will be because instead of leading the people the administration spokesmen have relied upon the bastard art of manipulating opinion by sloganeering and shock.

If it is at all true that the national decisions taken last summer were not serious, and might be revoked next winter, then the President and his cabinet should search their consciences, asking themselves how often they have come out from behind their announcements and declarations to talk with, not merely to talk to, the people.

NATURALLY enough, therefore, when the worst fears did not materialize, the tendency was very strong, not only in Congress but also in the White House itself, to relapse into pleasanter and less strenuous ways. Thus we drifted down from the stern exactions of the military state to the easy benefits of the welfare state.

That was how the impulse to rearm, which was incited by the Czechoslovak crisis, fizzled out in poor Louis Johnson's economies.

It is not going to be possible for this country to defend its interests and to do its duty in the world unless our people will support steadfastly and with substantial unity of purpose a large military establishment for many years to come. But it is also true that this long and sustained effort cannot be had by relying upon the psychology of recurrent crises.

If the race is to be a long one, then the attempt to sprint the whole way will soon end in a breakdown. If there is to be a will to persevere, no matter whether Malik frowns or Vishinsky smiles, then it must be nourished and sustained by a good diet of conviction and faith, not incited and excited by dope.

If they will talk with the people, they will not have to lie awake nights worrying whether a military victory in Korea might cause us to disarm again, or to quake and shudder lest Mr. Vishinsky deprive us of the daily injection of truculence to which Mr. Malik treated us.

THE AMERICAN people are quite capable of understanding that the extra 17 billion dollars were not authorized in order that we might defeat the North Korean army. They are no less capable of understanding that the defeat of the North Korean army is not the end of the great struggle.

They are not likely to confuse the defeat and the dissolution of that little army with the unconditional surrender of Germany and Japan, nor are they likely to allow their gratitude and relief at the outcome to cause them to forget the critical fact that our Navy and our Air Force were unopposed.

The big question, which underlies the anxieties that General Bradley and others are expressing, is whether to act as if we are on the verge of total war or as if we are engaged in a long struggle which could break down into total war but may not and need not.

Since 1947 the administration has based its dealings with the public and with the Congress on the cry of imminent disaster that only emergency action could avert.

The Truman Doctrine, in large degree though not wholly the Marshall Plan, and of course the Atlantic Pact and military aid, have been presented as emergency measures for a crisis. All of them in fact were measures requiring years in which to achieve their real purpose.

"THE METHOD and manner of American defense and diplomacy are now decisive," said the "Economist" the other day, "in every capital in the free world. It is well to be perfectly clear about the task on which the free nations are engaged. It is a long task which may last out this generation."

In the free world a task which may last out this generation will not be carried out if the people are presumed to be able to act only when they are frightened. It will be carried out only if the people are treated by their leaders as adult free men who, when the matter is fully explained to them, will make up their minds, and having made them up will keep them made up.

Explaining it all for the purpose of reaching that kind of conviction takes time, it takes trouble, and it requires leaders who really trust the people.

No doubt, if one is in a terrible hurry and if one does not want to take a lot of trouble, and if all the reasons are not perfectly clear, the quickest and easiest way to get something done is to scare the country and to stampede Congress.

The trouble with this technique, apart from its cynical immorality, is that, like getting drunk, it is tremendous while it lasts but in the hangover there come all the things that the President and General Bradley are worrying about.

Atom Alarm

AN IMPROVED atomic radiation indicator, small and cheap enough to be worn by whole populations in bomb-threatened areas, has been announced by a university medical professor.

The chemical device, which could be used in the form of a "dog tag", was developed by Dr. George V. Taplin, associate clinical professor of medicine at the University of California at Los Angeles. He has been working at the U.C.L.A. atomic energy project.

Dr. Taplin said one version of the device was announced last February, but that it now has been made "at least 50 times more sensitive".

He said the "dosimeter", as it is called, consists of a small glass tube containing chloroform and a purple dye. When bombarded by X-rays or gamma rays, he said, the dye turns to a bright yellow.

Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Letters For Special Delivery

TRUSTEES of the Ford Foundation,
Gentlemen:

Your announcement that a 250 million dollar Ford Foundation will be used to promote peace, human happiness and human conduct rates everybody's appreciation. And I think it is swell to see money from the auto business used for such objectives because, making full allowances for the many wonderful benefits the auto has brought to mankind, there is no escaping the fact that it has also contributed to making man a pretty irascible, nervous, bad mannered and not too happy creature.

The world was more placid when it walked now and then, drove a horse or hopped a trolley. Mankind began to get irritable and jumpy with the first traffic congestion, and has grown steadily worse.

A FELLOW could relax and be thoughtful over a week end in the horse and buggy days. He knew no urge to get out on a crowded super highway and curse anybody who would not move over. You rarely saw a man lean from a "buggy with the fringe on top" and bawl out a pedestrian or a man in another vehicle.

Impatience, bad manners and general irritability are as much to blame for the lack of peace in the world today as anything. Patience went out the window the first time a man had to change a tire in the mud before the days of the demountable rim.

Courtesy did a fadeout with the development of the idea that the auto horn conquered all. The defective windshield wiper, the demi tasse tool kit and the squeaky rear door made folks a little more jumpy.

Then the designers in all auto plants everywhere designed a body in such a way that a tire could only be changed by a contortionist with a stick of dynamite. (This was the last straw; man hasn't been even moderately happy or peaceful from that day on.)

—:—

THE AUTO filled man with the yen to violate danger signals, cut corners and break laws. It filled millions with a sense of unearned importance. The world got "uppity".

In grandpa's day one man didn't think it a social injustice if another man could afford a horse. But ever since the auto came, every man, woman and child has though himself entitled to a car.

Jealousy, irritability, impatience, uneasiness, dissatisfaction, lawlessness and bad manners became universal.

The auto turned a quiet, peaceful world into a planet loaded with belligerent, bad-tempered trouble-makers. And it's nice to see the auto industry deciding to put some of the money back into correcting and reforming human beings in all models.

I NOTE YOU emphasize that attention will be given to the home and to the school. For which three cheers. Since the auto got into quantity production the home has gone to pot, except in bad weather.

And "the formative influence of school, home and church" are not aided with mom and pop arguing with traffic cops most of the time, teacher all bandaged up from rough trips in mid-traffic, and the kids absorbing the manners and vocabulary of one adult telling another adult what he thinks of his driving.

Thanks for the 250-million dollars, but the human race has gone too far to be saved for that little. Not that I'm knocking the purpose. It's wonderful and it ought to help. Good luck and best wishes!

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN

This is "National Employ the Physically Handicapped Week", and the biggest handicap is the title.

—:—

If you were to count the number of perfect physical specimens who hold jobs, you wouldn't be busy very long.

I know fellows who are minus an arm or a leg who are doing better work every day than some fellows who have everything they were born with, including no teeth.

The way to get employment for the physically handicapped is wipe the phrase off the books and start looking for jobs for men and women, period.

This may be considered a left-handed endorsement of the fine purpose of this week, but there is no worse psychology to be found than in the phrase, "do you have a job for a handicapped man?"

Republican Donnell Thorn In Side Of President's Forces

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo, Oct 4 (AP) — A couple of hard campaigners are squared off in the battle for United States senator in President Truman's home state

On one side it's Thomas C Hennings Jr 47 of St Louis He's the man who beat the President's choice for the Democratic nomination in the August primary

On the other side it's Senator Forrest C Donnell, 66 of Webster Groves a St Louis suburb He's the Republican who was elected governor in 1940 and senator in 1944 the only G O P candidate who successfully bucked the Roosevelt landslides in those years

Both have records of squeaking through to victory in breathlessly close elections

Last August Mr Hennings beat the President's man, Emery W Allison by a bare 4 132 votes Absentee ballots had to be counted before the result was certain

Senator Donnell (you pronounce it like Donald without the final D) had no primary trouble But in 1940 he won the governorship by 3613 and in 1944 he was elected senator by a mere 1 900 votes

All that stacks up as a close battle between strikingly different personalities

Senator Donnell has been such a persistent critic of the Truman administration he has been likened to a hair shirt As governor and as senator he has gained a reputation as a careful i-dotter and t-crosser

The story goes that once as governor he issued a proclamation designating Star Spangled Banner Day When the day came he insisted on observing it by rising and singing the National Anthem in his executive offices

Once he amended his campaign expense statement to include a 10-cent item he had overlooked And when he voted an absentee ballot in the August primary, he carefully called attention to a typographical error

At times he has exasperated his Senate colleagues with legalistic detail His speeches are meticulously phrased legal documents

He delivers them in a booming voice bobbing his thatch of unruly graying auburn hair

An when a campaign speech is finished—that's where he shines He has a prodigious memory for names He shakes hands with hundreds pumping their arms with homey vigor

He never mentions an opponent except possibly to say he's a fine man

Mr Hennings at 47 still has the athletic build that made him a track star at Cornell in younger days He's a big fellow who likes a 400-yard daily swim

He has a natural ease on the platform That may be because he started his political career in 1916 when he was a page boy at the St Louis Democratic convention which nominated Woodrow Wilson for his second term

Mr Hennings served six years in the House as a Roosevelt supporter on the House foreign affairs committee He resigned to run for circuit attorney in St Louis, where he won a reputation as a crusader

During World War II he was in the Navy in the Caribbean and Pacific He emerged as a lieutenant commander Since then he has practiced law in St Louis

Taft And Ferguson Woo Northeast Ohio

CLEVELAND Oct 4 (AP) — Northeastern Ohio heard from both of the state's senatorial candidates last night

Robert A Taft the Republican incumbent stumped at Warren and Youngstown urging election of a Republican Congress as a means of safeguarding the nation's liberties

Joseph T Ferguson the state auditor and Mr Taft's Democratic opponent, talked on a radio broadcast from here He attacked Mr Taft's record on farm matters as without doubt even worse than his war and labor records

After declaring Mr Taft was against farm price supports soil conservation and rural electrification the auditor outlined his own program for farmers

Mr Ferguson favors the development of foreign trade for U S farm products more electrical power for farms and the protection for farm co operatives against heavy taxation

Senator Taft and Admiral Louis W Denfield spoke at Warren at the 63rd Giddings Club banquet which annually kicks off the Republican campaign in Trumbull county The club is named for Joshua Giddings one of the party's founders

The senator said that if we are to protect the United States from invasion from abroad and invasion from within by socialism, our only course is to elect a Republican Congress next month

Previously at Youngstown the senator said labor unions which have attacked him want a rubber stamp Congress Such a Congress he said could lead to a complete domination of American life by federal bureaus in Washington

That could result in tyranny loss of freedom and elimination of the voice of the people , he added

Admiral Denfeld said he was removed as Navy chief of staff because he would not knuckle down to the administration and told the people and Congress what the Navy needed

I regret having been vindicated by the Korean war he added

He said he spoke on behalf of Senator Taft because the senator's integrity and foresight are unquestionable

Also at the meetings was Don Ebright state treasurer and Republican candidate for the governorship now held by Democrat Frank J Lausche

Mr Ebright said the state budget needs a planned trimming He declared he would launch a study to that effect right after the election

High Prices Trim Air Force Plans

WASHINGTON Oct 4 (AP) — The Air Force said yesterday that, due to price rises, it will have to cut its expansion program by the equivalent of 750 F-86 fighter planes or else get more money from Congress

John McCone, undersecretary of air gave that estimate to the House armed services committee

Chairman Vinson (D) of Georgia commented Congress must control prices or provide more money There is no need to fool ourselves

Mr McCone said price rises on essential materials from April to September added $315 000 000 to $360 000 000 to the prospective cost of the Air Force program of adding 4 428 new planes in the period ending with 1952

On a percentage basis Mr McCone continued, the cost of building planes has gone up 7 to 8 per cent So the Air Force is confronted with the necessity of cutting back the planned expansion or asking more money for it

Air Force Dead Placed At 54

WASHINGTON Oct 4 (AP)— The Air Force said yesterday it has suffered 179 casualties in the Korean war including dead missing and wounded

Brigadier General Dan Ogle in a report to the House armed services committee said 22 Air Force men have been killed 32 died of wounds 88 are missing and 37 were wounded but have lived

This was the best casualty list information now available he said for the 53 054 Air Force men and officers operating in the Korean theater

The latest official casualty figures issued by the Air Force were on Sept 29 when the total was reported as 138

General Ogle told the committee the Air Force now has 1 000 physicians and 562 dentists and it needs immediately 800 additional physicians and 411 additional dentists

He said the Air Force sent out letters to 7 000 physicians and dentists who had received their education at government expense during the last war, calling for volunteers

Of this number, he said 2 000 have asked for applications for reserve commissions and 250 already have been given commissions

He voiced the opinion that the needed medical personnel can be obtained by this method and said that the Air Force has not asked for use of the doctor draft at this time

Citizens' Committee Says All Crowded

CHARLESTON, W Va, Oct 4 (AP) — West Virginia's 15 000 public school classrooms are dangerously overcrowded', the head of the Citizens School Building Committee believes

As a result, said Chairman Howard R Klostermeyer, 'About 400 000 boys and girls are attending classes under a serious handicap

The Charleston attorney said a survey made within the last year by the State Education Association showed that

Out of 4 572 elementary classrooms investigated 2 325, or 51 per cent, were found to be packed beyond their normal capacity

'In these 2 325 overcrowded rooms, almost 10 000 boys and girls were not getting anywhere near a fair share of the teacher's time

The school building committee is a group formed to urge passage in November of the proposed school bond amendment to the state constitution

The amendment would permit a county by a 60 per cent vote to exceed present constitutional levy limitations to service school bond issues

The change would be primarily to the benefit of counties desiring to erect new buildings or otherwise expand school facilities, but which cannot finance bonds under present levy restrictions

Mr Klostermeyer said The school bond amendment to the state constitution offers the only hope of ultimate relief in this problem "

Mrs. C. C. Keller, 1629½ Frederick Avenue, St Joseph, Missouri, says HADACOL really has put a stop to her neuritis pains She was in a very bad condition with aches and pains and unable to sleep and was forced to give up her position as a practical nurse She had severe pains in wrists and stiffness in her hips being almost unable to walk Now after taking one bottle of HADACOL she is able to do her own housework She most enthusiastically recommends HADACOL to all sufferers from neuritis pains

Floyd Mabe, 1401A South 7th Street, St Louis, Missouri "For some time after a wartime injury I had been troubled with neuritis pains in my legs and could not work Nothing seemed to help me until I tried HADACOL After taking a half bottle I seemed to feel better My wife told me it was only my imagination but I continued to take HADACOL and up to the present have taken 13 bottles. Now I feel fine with no more pains in my legs "(HADACOL is so effective because it relieves THE REAL CAUSE of neuritis aches when due to such deficiencies Why don't you give HADACOL a chance to help you?)

Link Robinson (a steel worker for over 20 years), 519 Lindsey, Newport, Kentucky When your stomach is in bad shape as mine, couldn't eat, gas pains, stomach bloating and nervousness, then your body doesn't get the proper foods it needs My boss told me about HADACOL and I started taking it immediately After the second bottle I could tell a definite improvement Now I can eat anything I want to Best of all I haven't got those terrific gas pains and stomach bloating "

Mrs. John Geary, 840 Ursuline Street, New Orleans, Louisiana "I had such a nervous stomach I was unable to eat regularly Lots of times I was unable to hold any food on my stomach Then I heard about HADACOL After the first few bottles I could tell a definite improvement Now my stomach doesn't trouble me at all I eat anything I want HADACOL is wonderful You can see that, if it did so much for me after suffering so (A big improvement is often noticed within a few days' time One of the many advantages of HADACOL is that continued use helps prevent such stomach distress from returning Don't continue to suffer Start taking HADACOL today!)

Mrs. L. Crifasi, 327 N 14th Street Springfield Illinois I am elated with the wonderful results obtained by taking HADACOL I had emotional indigestion which is stomach distress and makes a person feel down and out HADACOL seemed to be prepared for my ailment for it made a new woman of me "

W. E. Hosworth, a skilled maintenance man in Waco, Texas "I almost had to give up my job because of suffering from stomach distress I couldn't hold my food, as no food agreed with me After hearing about HADACOL and completing a second bottle, I began to feel better and regain the weight I lost and suffered no more indigestion I now take HADACOL regularly to help stay well " (Why don't you try HADACOL?)

Mrs. J Schessinski, 514 Kruger, Ottumwa, Iowa: "My daughter, Marilyn Sue, is five years old and for some time lacked pep, had a poor appetite was generally run-down. Since giving her HADACOL, we have noticed wonderful results. She has a much better appetite, eats everything on the table and doesn't seem tired like she used to Incidentally she likes to take her HADACOL, too " (Kiddies sure do like HADACOL.)

the three scourges of man

DEVASTATING EPIDEMICS have ranked with war and famine as population levelers Of these three scourges of man, pestilence was most dreaded During the Black Plague epidemic of 1348, it was estimated that in some places over two thirds of the population was wiped out

The discovery of bacteria as the cause of infectious disease is still within the memory of the living Pasteur developed the first vaccine for rabies in 1885 Since that time many immunizing procedures have become routine As a consequence deaths from infectious diseases have been drastically reduced

Everyone should be protected against smallpox and diphtheria as an absolute minimum Do not wait for an epidemic to break out Then it is often too late

Capone Gang Bosses Tagged

Senate Committee Wants To See Them

CHICAGO, Oct. 4 (AP) — Federal and state officials joined today in attempting to round up remnants of the old Capone gang for questioning on two recent slayings and appearance before a U.S. Senate crime committee.

The committee, investigating crime in the nation's major cities, open hearings on Chicago's underworld activities tomorrow.

Two former members of the old Capone mob were held in jail overnight for further questioning on the slayings of two crime investigators Sept. 25.

Three other top members of the gang, who reportedly fled to Mexico to escape service of subpenas by the crime committee, also are wanted for similar interrogation by police.

Committee Chairman Estel Kefauver (D) of Tennessee said in Washington he has asked the State Department for help in returning the three men to this country. State's Attorney John S. Boyle telegraphed Mexico City police and asked aid in finding the men—Tony Accardo and Rocco and Charles Fischetti, brothers, and cousins of Capone.

However, the three are not charged with any extraditable offense and it was uncertain what the State Department can do. Senator Kefauver said he hopes the State Department will request the Mexican government to try to find them and ask them to leave.

In Wilmington, Calif., deputy U S. marshals yesterday served a subpena on a man they identified as Al Capone's brother, Matt Capone, to appear before the committee. Another brother, Ralph, was served a similar subpena two weeks ago in his summer home near Mercer, Wis., where he operates a tavern.

His family said he probably will be in hospital until June.

Levy Is Endorsed By Garfield Group

A unanimous endorsement of the 5-mill school operating levy was given by the Garfield Parent - Teacher League Tuesday night.

The levy will take the place of the 3-mill and 2-mill levies which expire this year.

Merrill Hall, a member of the High School faculty and chairman of the committee from the East Liverpool City Teachers Association working for its approval, explained it will mean no additional taxes. A discussion followed.

The league approved purchase of filing cases for the school office by a committee consisting of Milton Watson, principal, James Walker and Rev. Charles Smith, which was appointed.

About 70 parents and friends attended the meeting at which Frank Baldwin, vice-president, presided in the absence of Mrs Lawrence Applegate, president

Two piano duets were given by Misses Mary Ellen Traubert and Joan Lane, music teachers in the elementary schools. The devotions were conducted by Rev. Smith.

The attendance award was won by the second grade taught by Mrs. Esther Thomas. Lunch was served by the faculty.

Lausche Off On Long Tour

Governor Expects To Hit All Counties

COLUMBUS, Oct. 4 (AP) — Governor Frank J. Lausche swings through western Ohio today on the opening leg of his re-election campaign tour.

The governor, accompanied by his Democratic running mate, Lieutenant Governor George D. Nye, probably will enter all 88 counties before the tour ends shortly before the Nov. 7 election.

The campaign opener had been scheduled for the Piqua Corn Festival yesterday, but the governor did not speak. He made a brief talk last night before the Shelby county Democratic central committee in Sidney.

In it, he reiterated his friendship for the "laboring man".

"I have stood by the side of the laboring man," he declared, "and intend to stand there. I say without hesitation that under my administration, more labor legislation beneficial to the individual workman was passed than under any other administration except Jim Cox (former Governor James M. Cox)."

Governor Lausche has been attacked by some labor leaders for his refusal so far to endorse State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson, the Democratic senatorial nominee. The Democratic governor has said he does not know whether he will vote for Mr. Ferguson or for Senator Robert A. Taft, who is seeking re-election.

Perfume That Clings

Q.—Dear Penny: I adore perfume, but for some reason or other its fragrance just does not last on me. I have told several of my friends that I want a new perfume, but first I must find out about a lasting one.—Mrs. A. W.

Potters To Give Way 15-20 Pounds Per Man Against Toledo

Devilbiss' Beef Trust Has 2-1 Record

The Toledo Devilbiss Tigers—foe No 4 for the Potters Friday night at Patterson Field — will present an assortment of beef the likes of which hasn't been seen on the West End gridiron in years

The pachyderms from the northwestern part of the state will outweigh the Blue and White between 15 and 20 pounds per man depending upon whom Coach Luther Hanshue elects to play the left tackle slot

Most of the beef trust is concentrated at three positions—the tackles and center

Known in Toledo circles as the 'roadblock' the three hefties are Tackle Cletus Haupricht who carries a mere 255 pounds on his 6-foot-2 frame George Leow the massive center who tips the Fairbanks at 242 (He's 6-1) and Tackle Ray Ritcher a 5 foot-9 youngster who carries only 218 pounds

However Coach Hanshue has named Dave Dye a skinny 174-pounder to start at tackle in place of Ritcher

With Dye at tackle the Devilbiss forward wall will scale 186 pounds, but with Ritcher in there it will be tilted to a bulky 191 30 more than the Potters

The backfield a veteran combination, will average 171, giving the Tigers a team average of 178 without Ritcher or 181 with him

Gary Miehls captains the team at quarterback and directs the Tigers on the field from T formation He's a 161 pounder The halfbacks will be Rol Kwiatowski 185 at left half and Pete Wright 152 at right half with Bob Atkins 185 running at fullback

Besides Dye and Leow only Ted Scharf 162 pound left guard is the only other letterman on the line giving the Tigers seven starting veterans

Other starting assignments on the line have been given to Dale Duncan 170 and Jim Daso 152 ends and Larry Faris 151 right guard

In their second year under Hanshue the Tigers have won two of three games winning over Detroit River Rouge 27-0 in the opener and 13-7 over Toledo Central last week In their second start they were trounced 27-7, by Toledo Scott in what was regarded as an upset

Hanshue's 1949 Tigers won five lost five and tied one During his two year stay at Louisville (Ky) Male High School 1947 and 1948 his teams won 1[illegible] lost eight and tied one but the 1947 team captured eight and lost only two to nail the City League crown

In his eight year reign at Newark High 1939 through 1946 His Wildcats won 57 lost 13 and tied two and won the Central Ohio League championship four times 1940 43 44 and 45

Counting the three games played this season the Wittenberg College graduate's teams have captured 75 lost 27 and tied four

Four College Teams Picked To Repeat

NEW YORK Oct 4 (AP) — Four college football conference champions have been picked to repeat in 1950 but one—Michigan—already has stubbed its toe

In an Associated Press poll 220 sports writers and broadcasters from the Western Conference area selected the Wolverines—co-champs last year with Ohio State—to pick up all the Big 10 marbles this year

Cornell warned to its task last Saturday by blanking Lafayette 27 0 in a non-league affair

It's Part Of Education

Must Excell To Enjoy Football, Potter Coach Tells Local Club

Football is fun if you can excell but you can't enjoy it unless you can do a respectable job Coach Wade Watts told members of the Exchange Club at their weekly meeting Tuesday at the Mary Patterson Memorial

You just can't play it as a game with no desire to win I can't enjoy a game of ping pong unless I can give the other fellow a good game

Football to me is part of the education and can be as worthwhile as any subject

It provides great training for a boy It seems that there are not very many things any more in which children are disciplined

The youngsters don't have much responsibility and when things get too tough they throw in the towel

Speaking informally Coach Watts told of the work at spring practice and read sample letters mailed to those boys who were rejected and to those accepted for the team

We have done everything possible to be fair to the youngsters but it seems I am more let down this year than ever

But it may not be as bad as I make out The team is in about the same place as last year and our opponents apparently are even better

It's quite a problem to get boys interested in playing football but the community has done a lot along that line

Touching briefly on approaching games Mr Watts pointed out the game with Toledo Devilbiss Friday night should be a fairly good game

Devilbiss may be down somewhat after two tough City Series games and our boys possibly realize that it's time to get going

Canton Lehman is better than the team we played last year pointing out that Lehman walloped a Wheeling High eleven which last week trounced Martins Ferry

Youngstown South also is better than last year and Salem evidently has one of its best teams in years

Mr Watts was introduced by Byron R Fells program chairman

Robert Goodman was a guest Bertram Wakefield president presided

Fesler moved Janowicz back to the halfback position after the SMU game Curcillo a Janowicz understudy took the quarterback spot his Elyria friend had in the SMU game

Ohio State officials said yesterday there still are about 8 000 seats remaining for Saturday's game with Pitt

Love For Family Greater

Henrich Would Reject Manager Job

PHILADELPHIA, Oct 4 (AP) — Because his passion for his family is far greater than his love for baseball, Tommy Henrich was prepared today to sacrifice a chance to become manager of the New York Yankees

The veteran outfielder-first baseman in a surprise disclosure declared he had no managerial ambition whatsoever One of the brainiest and most popular players ever to wear a Yankee uniform Henrich generally is regarded as Casey Stengel's successor

I have no managerial aspirations Tommy stated flatly last night on the eve of the World Series I have no aspirations to become manager of the Yankees and I most certainly don't want to manage in the minor leagues I've struggled through years in the minors I'll never go back no matter what '

Rumored as a certainty to pilot the Yankees in the near future the 34-year-old native of Massillon O —has been reported as ready to accept an offer for a managerial post with Kansas City a farm club of the Yankees next year

Neither the Yankees nor anybody else has offered me any kind of a managerial job, he said 'I wouldn't accept one if it were offered 'This is the way I look at it he said I've been playing baseball for 17 years I'm not getting any younger It's time I began to think of my happiness and the happiness of my family

'I have a wonderful wife and three children They mean all the world to me Sure, I love baseball Sure I owe it a lot But I love my family more and I owe more to my family '

Henrich said he'd welcome a job in baseball But not one that will keep me away from my family Being a manager means staying away from home I don't want that I've spent seven months out of every year away from my family That's much too much '

Tom said he'd jump at the chance to join the Yankee front office provided it's a responsible position that would meet my capabilities '

Would Henrich accept a managerial job in the majors?

No he said I don't want to manage in the big leagues I've spent many years learning to play ball I know nothing about managing It would take years of schooling in the minors before I'd qualify to manage in the big leagues"

Henrich

Tommy realizes better than anyone else that his playing days are just about over He would not be surprised if he learned that he had played his final game Henrich received a hint of it yesterday when he received the bad news from Stengel that he had been placed on the World Series ineligible list to make room for Johnny Hopp

Tom was benched nearly the entire season by a bad knee It is believed the knee injury has ended his big league career Tommy does not want to undergo a winter operation

Henrich earned his nickname Old Reliable through 12 active years as a Yankee He was an important cog in seven championship teams He was the hero of last year's World Series He slammed a ninth inning home run off Don Newcombe that gave the Yanks a 1-0 triumph over Brooklyn in the first game

The Yanks got Henrich for their Newark farm with a $25 000 bonus in 1937 after Judge Landis made him a free agent declaring that a Cleveland title to his was not legal He joined the Yanks that year Later teamed with Joe DiMaggio and Charlie Keller they formed one of the greatest all-around outfield trios in baseball history

Tommy who spent three years in the service during World War II made the American League All-Star team three years One of his gratest feats was hitting four home runs with the bases full in a single season a record tying accomplishment.

Konstanty Phils Surprise Choice For World Series Opener

Moore Bats .555 To Grab County Title

Jim Moore, hard-hitting first baseman and manager of the Wellsville Merchants, clubbed County League pitching at a lusty .555 pace to capture the loop batting championship for the 1950 season.

Official figures released today by Stewart Curtis, publicity director of the league, showed the big lefthander smashed 45 hits in 81 trips to the plate.

Bob Boston of the champion Riverview Florists and Buck McNicol of Wellsville hit at a faster clip than Moore, but neither was at bat a sufficient number of times to be considered for the title.

Boston collected 14 hits in 22 trips to the plate for a .637 average, while McNicol banged out 23 hits in 41 trips for a .561 mark.

Trailing Moore closely in second place was Harold Martin of East Palestine who pounded the pellet at a .538 clip, collecting 48 bingles in 90 trips.

Yanks, However, 9-5 Favorites In 1st Game

By JACK HAND

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 4 (AP)—Jim Konstanty, rubber-armed Phillies relief hero, is Manager Eddie Sawyer's stunning choice to open against the New York Yankees' Vic Raschi today in the most daring gamble since the 1929 World Series.

Not since Connie Mack startled his own players by calling on obscure Howard Ehmke to pitch and win the opener for the A's against Chicago 21 years ago has a pennant-winning manager taken such a chance.

JIM KONSTANTY

Phils' surprise starter.

A sell-out crowd of 33,167 will see bespectacled Jim try to "pull an Ehmke". Game time was 1:00 p. m. (East Liverpool time), with a promise of cloudy and cooler weather. Millions more were to watch and listen at home on television and radio.

They were betting 9 to 5 that Konstanty and the Phils wouldn't win the opener. And the Phil Whiz Kids were 13 to 5 underdogs in the best-of-seven series.

Sawyer skipped Robin Roberts, his 20-game winning flag clincher, to give him more rest, and settled on Konstanty, his faithful bullpen saver. Enjoying his best season at the age of 33, big Jim pitched in a record-breaking 74 games. Yet he didn't start once, and hasn't started a game since 1948 at Toronto. He hasn't been a big league starter since he was with the Boston Braves in 1946.

"I thought Jim had the best chance against this type of free-swinging club," Sawyer explained. The skipper reached his decision 15 minutes before yesterday's workout after a meeting with his coaching staff, scouts, Konstanty and Roberts.

Never much of a success until he started working for mild-tempered Sawyer, Konstanty is essentially a control pitcher with good breaking stuff. A few curves and an occasional fast ball break a steady diet of sliders and palm balls coming out of an exaggerated overhand motion.

The selection of Konstanty was no sentimental gesture to a faithful worker. Sawyer picked Konstanty because he remembered the way he baffled the American League sluggers in the All-Star game, how he pulled the Phils out of trouble day after day. This was the man Sawyer said made the "big difference" in the Phil success story, although he had been hit hard in his last few trials.

The news surprised Konstanty as much as the "experts". It never was discussed, although Sawyer said he "wrestled with the idea" during the final month.

Konstanty, arriving early for the workout, was called into a corner by Sawyer who asked, "Do you think you could pitch the opener?" Jim jumped at the chance.

"Jim is experienced and the boys have confidence in him," Sawyer said. I'd rather go with him than try somebody else who might only last four innings. This way I have Roberts ready and rested for the second game."

Although Konstanty (16-7) did not start all year he did pitch nine innings against Pittsburgh Aug. 25 and 10 relief innings in a 19-inning night game against Cincinnati Sept. 15. In the minors he started regularly.

The Konstanty story created such a stir that changes in the eligible player list were almost overlooked. The Phils were given permission by the Yanks to use Outfielder Jack Mayo and lefthanded Pitcher Jocko Thompson in place of the ailing Bill Nicholson and Curt Simmons, the 17-game winner now in the Army.

Simmons will attend the game on a 10-day furlough. The $65,000 bonus pitcher may even work batting practice, but Sawyer said he would not ask Commissioner A. B. Chandler to restore him to the active list.

In return for letting Mayo and Thompson play, the Yanks can use Johnny Hopp, acquired after the Sept. 1 deadline. To make Hopp eligible, Manager Casey Stengel took Tommy Henrich, hobbled with a bad knee, off the list.

Stengel said it was an "awful hard thing to do". Still he had to strengthen his club with a first baseman-outfielder like Hopp over a man who could be used only as a pinch-hitter. A year ago Henrich played first base and won the opener against Don Newcombe with a ninth-inning home run.

Raschi (21-8), a powerful righthanded speedster, will contrast sharply with Konstanty's dancing and dipping stuff. Big Vic pitched most of Stengel's key games. Troubled by a sore shoulder in the last two weeks, he still whipped Boston on a six-hitter in a vital Sept. 24 game.

World Series Notes

Konstanty To 'See' First Series Game

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 4 (AP) — James Casmir Konstanty, starting pitcher for the National League Champion Philadelphia Phillies in the first game of the 1950 World Series, until today had never seen a World Series game. Even so, bespectacled Jim said it would be just another ball game once the umpire shouted play ball. Told he was the biggest surprise since Connie Mack started Howard Ehmke for the Athletics in the 1929 series Konstanty said, "Well I only hope I can do as well as Ehmke."

Tommy Henrich, New York Yankee veteran of five World Series, will cover the series for the New York World Telegram. Tommy bowed out of the classic in order to make Johnny Hopp eligible to participate. Henrich has been injured most of the year. He said he was glad to take himself out of the series to help the team. Hopp was acquired from Pittsburgh in the last month of the American League campaign.

Only three members of the playing Phillies ever have been in a World Series, Blix Donnelly, Dick Sisler and Dick Whitman. On the other side of the fence, all of the Yankee regulars have appeared in at least one October classic and Joe DiMaggio has been in eight.

The American League holds a 29-17 edge over the National League in World Series play. Actually, it has been the Yankees who have given the junior circuit its commanding edge. The Bronx Bombers have won 12 World Series — five of them in the minimum of four games. Charley Segar—National League publicity director — says its not the American League that bothers the senior circuit. It's the Yankees. Take them out and what do you have.

The World Series is the climax of the road back for Eddie Waitkus, Phillies' first sacker. Waitkus was shot and almost killed by a deranged girl in Chicago in 1949. It was thought he would never play baseball again. But here he is in the World Series.

"FREEDOM GOES WHERE THE NEWSPAPER GOES"

Is it merely an accident that those countries that have a free press, also have a free people? Most Americans realize it is more than coincidence. This is the essence of true Democracy.

Odd And Interesting

By W. L. GORDON

The National Geographic Society says Chinese pagodas have an uneven number of stories because the Chinese consider odd numbers lucky.

Animals that walk softly usually are endowed with specially keen hearing, while those with a heavy step have a "dull ear".

Second School Held On Voting

300 Attend Precinct Staff Class At Lisbon

About 300 Lisbon area precinct judges and clerks attended the second of three County Election Board "schools" Tuesday night for briefing on Nov. 7 election procedure.

Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk of the board, spoke to men and women who will staff polling places in Lisbon and Salineville villages and seven adjoining townships. He stressed procedure in handling the new office-type ballot, eliminating straight ticket voting, that will be used for the first time in the fall election. A lively question and answer period followed.

Three members of the board attended the meeting in the Lisbon High School study hall—A. L. Forney of East Palestine, Carey A. Houlette of near Columbiana, and C. L. Stacey of Columbiana. Attorney Louis Tobin of East Liverpool, fourth member, was unable to attend because of the critical illness of his mother.

The final vote procedure school is slated Thursday at 7:30 p. m. in the Columbiana High School gymnasium-auditorium. It will affect 282 persons who will work in 47 precincts in Salem and East Palestine cities, Leetonia, Columbiana, New Waterford and Washingtonville villages and Butler, Fairfield, Knox, Perry, Salem and Unity townships.

Television dramas, put on film, require about 15 minutes of camera shooting time for each minute of finished film.

Drivers Nearly Win Reduction In Befuddling Signs

Motorists who are befuddled by streets cluttered with traffic signs had a champion in Wellsville council Tuesday night, but the situation wasn't improved.

Councilman Charles Stewart reported the street and light committee recommended tabling of a request referred to it Sept. 19 that parking be banned on one side of 14th St.

He said the city is "cluttered with signs now and they are not enforced.

The question seemed settled until later in the meeting when a spectator, Ed Pugh, High School instructor, asked council to reconsider.

Councilman J. Fred Russell added he is in favor of limiting the parking if signs were available and need not be purchased, and Safety-Service Charles Lewis said he believed he had sufficient signs.

With the consent of the street and light committee, Mr. Stewart moved that an ordinance be prepared and it was passed unanimously.

Spectators At Theater Work Threaten 'Strike'

There's a "strike" impending at the site of the new American Theater job, but it won't interrupt construction.

About a half dozen "sidewalk superintendents" who have watched the job faithfully since the fire-ruined remains of the old theater were razed served the "strike notice" with the Police Department.

A high wooden barricade has been raised on the East Sixth St. side of the new construction shutting off the most convenient vantage point, they complained. Crook Alley on the westside has been closed because of the work and the superintendents would have to walk around the block to get to another viewing site in Summit Lane at the rear.

Crucible To Take Part In Savings Bond Drive

The Crucible Steel Co. will be represented at a "kickoff dinner" Tuesday at the Irwin Works of the Carnegie-Illinois Steel Co. when plans will be formulated to reopen the purchase of Savings Bonds through the payroll deduction method as practiced during World War II.

A representative of Midland Local 1212 of the United Steelworkers Union also is expected to be present.

A company spokesman indicated, however, that the plan is not expected to get under way at the Midland Works before Jan. 1.

The group decided to sponsor a homecoming dance Oct. 14 following the Chester-Newell football game.
